11. PROHIBITED PRACTICES & STRATEGIES

- 11.1 All Traders agree to respect and adhere to the GTC together with the Trading Rules contained within the FAQ section of our website, which collectively are binding and create a legal obligation upon you. Our Trading rules, more specifically the section on Prohibited Strategies lists the prohibited acts which are deemed as breaching our GTC and Traders Agreement are listed as follows; Maximum Drawdown, Daily Drawdown, Breach by Inactivity (60 days, subject to change), HFT (High Frequency Trading), Martingale, Copy Trading between Accounts that are not owned by the same individual, Reversing between Firms/Accounts, Grid Trading, Statistical Arbitrage, Gambling/Over-leveraging.

For further details and information on our Trading rules, please visit the FAQ section on our website. These rules may be subject to change, attempts to circumvent or game these rules will also be considered as prohibited strategies.

- 11.2 Should a Trader engage in any of the prohibited trading practices described in this Clause (and as described on our website), Instant Funding may consider this as a failure to comply with the terms of the relevant Instant Funding Challenge, (ii) We may remove the Transactions in violation of the prohibition from the Traders trading history and/or not include their results in the rewards and/or losses generated by the Demo Trading, or (iii) immediately terminate all Services provided to the Trader and subsequently terminate these GTC.

11.7. Instant Funding may exercise any and all actions in this Clause 11.6 at its own discretion.

12. DISCLAIMER – SIMULATED OR HYPOTHETICAL PERFORMANCE

12.1 Unlike an actual performance record or live trading, simulated results and trading do not represent actual trading. As the virtual trades have not actually been executed, the results may have under-or-over compensated for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as lack of liquidity, slippage and similar. Although all trading activity is simulated (and not real), we have set out below some of the risks that relate to the underlying types of instruments or investment that your simulated, virtual trades will be linked to the virtual leverage involved in some trading styles means that both gains and losses are magnified. In other words, a relatively small market movement can lead to a proportionately larger movement in the value of your virtual account value; this can work against you as well as for you.
